a thoughtful engaging and intimate history of art that offers a critical analysis of the assumptions on which the entire discipline of art history depends concise and original this accessible second edition continues to act as an antidote to the behemoth art history textbooks of the past cultures have their own stories about themselves about other cultures and to hear them all is one way to hear the multiple stories that art tells james elkins persuasively demonstrates there can never be one story of art now that art historians are concerned with gender diversity inclusiveness and decolonization stories of art is an interactive iconoclastic text encouraging readers to imagine how they would present art history in an age of multiple narratives elkins discusses decolonizing the discipline representing race and ethnicity eurocentrism post nationalism and indigenous voices while examining histories of art written in china persia turkey and india this new edition features qr codes to 27 short videos that introduce challenging ideas about art and history in a clear and open way encouraging active reading and including ideas for writing exercises and class conversations a must read for students and scholars interested in exploring the cultural function of art history from picasso s cubism and duchamp s readymades to warhol s silkscreens and smithson s earthworks the art of the twentieth century broke completely with earlier artistic traditions a basic change in the market for advanced art produced a heightened demand for innovation and young conceptual innovators from picasso and duchamp to rauschenberg and warhol to cindy sherman and damien hirst responded not only by creating dozens of new forms of art but also by behaving in ways that would have been incomprehensible to their predecessors conceptual revolutions in twentieth century art presents the first systematic analysis of the reasons for this discontinuity david w galenson whose earlier research has changed our understanding of creativity combines social scientific methods with qualitative analysis to produce a fundamentally new interpretation of modern art that will give readers a far deeper appreciation of the art of the past century and of today than is available elsewhere when in their lives do great artists produce their greatest art do they strive for creative perfection throughout decades of painstaking and frustrating experimentation or do they achieve it confidently and decisively through meticulous planning that yields masterpieces early in their lives by examining the careers not only of great painters but also of important sculptors poets novelists and movie directors old masters and young geniuses offers a profound new understanding of artistic creativity using a wide range of evidence david galenson demonstrates that there are two fundamentally different approaches to innovation and that each is associated with a distinct pattern of discovery over a lifetime experimental innovators work by trial and error and arrive at their major contributions gradually late in life in contrast conceptual innovators make sudden breakthroughs by formulating new ideas usually at an early age galenson shows why such artists as michelangelo rembrandt cōzanne jackson pollock virginia woolf robert frost and alfred hitchcock were experimental old masters and why vermeer van gogh picasso herman melville james joyce sylvia plath and orson welles were conceptual young geniuses he also explains how this changes our understanding of art and its past experimental innovators seek and conceptual innovators find by illuminating the differences between them this pioneering book provides vivid new insights into the mysterious processes of human creativity
